Alliance for Full Participation 2011 Summit Report

by Bernadette Griswold

The Alliance for Full Participation 2011 Summit had over 1250 people participate for its 'Real Jobs; It's Everyone's Business' Summit in Washington, DC on November 17-19, 2011. The Summit started off with "Why Employment Matters" which was the basis of the Summit. The conference focused on why it is important for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities to have jobs and why they should have the right to work. The conference focused on thinking outside the box in all aspects of finding jobs for people from policy making to connecting with your local community. The Summit also included an AFP Town Hall discussion which allowed us to participate in a challenging and frank conversation about what is needed to make integrated employment a reality for all. The Town Hall discussion talked about subminimum wage, employment first and integrated and group employment, and the barriers that keep us from reaching our goals. The Summit attendance included self advocates, federal policy leaders, employers, state and local policy leaders, service providers, families, and researchers all with one focus to identify and work on challenging issues to ensure that all people have to right to work. The Summit ended on November 19 with one question "Where Do We Go from Here?" During this session we were able to set goals and plan for the future. Although many challenges were identified there was change on the horizon and the commitment for change was strong. A number of people from New Jersey attended. It is our hope that the working leadership group from New Jersey which presented itself at the conference will continue the work from the conference here in New Jersey.

AAIDD Leadership Meeting Orlando Florida, December 4-5, 2011

by Adeyemi Ajijedidun and Sidney Katz.

The AAIDD Leadership Meeting was held in Orlando Florida for 2 days. We jet out of Newark Airport late on the 3rd and landed safely in Florida around 9pm due to delayed flight. The following morning around 8:00 am, we set out from the Hotel to attend the joint meeting of the Assembly of Geographical Region and conference of Professional Interest. To our amazement, we were denied attending the meeting. They said the meeting that we came for has not yet started. We were advised to come back by 3:45pm. This shows that we were not part of the committee for the meeting. Shame! As a Counselor that assisted Mr. Sidney Katz on this trip, I found that very unprofessional. The question is, what is the purpose of the Leadership Meeting, if we as the caregiver and those that we render services to cannot take part in the committee meeting. I understood the frustration of Mr. Katz that day. He expressed that for him being an advocate for many years and a person with disability, he should be given the opportunity to run in the national ballot and to be part of the board at large committee.

We later went for the meeting as planned and to our surprise, we were the only Agency that came and Mr. Katz was the only member that was there. It was awkward and most of the discussion and analysis were based on budgets and funding. How much they have spent and the upcoming projects for the year. Transportation and some of the skills and training acquired. This was conducted by the President-Elect. A bit boring, I will say as there were 10 to 14 people that attended, there wasn't much to contribute. Listen as much as you can and hopefully you don't fall asleep. But I would say, the food was good.

The following day dragged on ultimately likewise the previous day but better though. The meeting started at 8:30am and lasted till 3:00pm as many people were heading back to their destination. By the time the meeting ended, only a handful of people were left. The topic for the day was, Promising Practices and Solutions in Employment. They also discussed Chapters, Regions, upcoming elections, inclusion in the community, events and conference and a visit to Cuba.

We watched few highlights on Cuba and the history behind the country. The mission of this delegation was to research the structure and delivery methods of supports provided for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities in Cuba. To learn firsthand about the Cuban approach, the delegation met with representatives of Cuba's health, education, and social services systems, including policy makers, academics, clinicians, and educators, and participated in site visits to schools, clinic, and facility- and community-based services. It was mentioned that, people with developmental disabilities were not given the opportunity needed to be independent. They were isolated from the community. The AAIDD program believes that direct interaction between ordinary citizens around the world could promote cultural understanding and world peace. "People of people" Citizen Ambassador Programs organizes and promotes opportunities for bridging cultural and political borders through direct interaction, unparalleled access, and unique experiences. Such programs enhance skills and exchange of culture.

There was also a discussion on positive behavior support training curriculum. This works to reduce challenging behavior exhibited by people with developmental disabilities. These indicate the competency base; trains supervisors and direct support staff to implement positive behavior support strategies.

Mr. Katz was able to contribute immensely and he spoke directly to individual on some burning issues around the world with people with developmental disability. He did a very good job and they all appreciated it. To his final contribution, he clearly stated that, it will be wise and appreciated if more agencies and members like CAU attend the meeting for productivity. We head back to Jersey on a promising note that things will improve and get better.

A Professional and Parent Perspective

by Jo-Anna Hamilton, RN,C, Quality Assurance Nurse Community Access Unlimited, Elizabeth, NJ

As not only a nurse that works with a challenged population of people with developmental disabilities, I am also a mother of a child with Down syndrome . I have come full circle in my life, as I did not work with this population for most of my nursing career, but I have been closely involved with all aspects of societal prejudices and failings when it comes to people who are developmentally disabled.

My son, Ryan, was born in 1975, the not too distant past when he was labeled "mentally retarded" and a "mongoloid". As a young mother, and a brand new nurse, I was appalled at these terms and made it my life's challenge to change things; not only for Ryan but for all the other beautiful children I was meeting along his life's path. It was a hard road to forge, from finding appropriate health care and doctors that would treat him as just another kid, to school systems that were intent on placing him in classrooms that would be unsuitable for any child. I have made enemies along the way, especially when my opinions about what is best for my child didn't agree with others opinions of what was best for my child! He eventually went through 5 elementary schools before finding the right fit, and is now a high school graduate and a very active and contributing part of his employment team for the past 15 years.

I have now come to be an integral part of an organization that dedicates itself to the development of providing the individuals in our society that may be developmentally or physically challenged with everything that society has to offer. Individuals that want a life like any other member of society. I am proud to provide my nursing expertise to these individuals, and I am especially proud to know most of the members of our organization, not as statistics, but as human beings who have become my friends. It has proved to me that with the appropriate knowledge, the appropriate housing options, the right kind of people and mostly, the attitude of love and understanding, that the world as we know it can be changed. It is the prejudices of the so called "normal" society that hinders any form of progress, not the "can-do" attitude and beliefs of the individual who is developmentally or physically challenged.

New AAIDD Member's Feedback

by Lisa M. Johnson, Quality Assurance Director
Pathways to Independence, Inc., Kearny, NJ

Pathways to Independence, Inc. recently gave me an opportunity to join any organization in the disabilities field, so I chose to join AAIDD. I had first learned of this organization when I attended their conference in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. I later purchased the Positive Behavior Supports training manual and trained our current staff. It was the most effective training I have ever used. I felt that joining AAIDD would be a great benefit to both me and my organization. I was right. In this short time, I have received weekly e-mails and updates about conferences, current research and important news. I have browsed the bookstore and have even voted in the recent AAIDD elections! I am so grateful to have this important resource.

It's a powerful community, and that power is growing.
